Fire & Ink IV: Witness will address the urgent question of what it means to bear witness as LGBTQ and SGL writers of African descent and heritage in the 21st Century. Witness will unite over 500 Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgendered and Queer writers of African descent, publishers, academics, and lovers of the written and performed word from around the country and the world. Witness is a rare and historic event offering a unique opportunity for artists and writers to create and share work, network and develop creative partnerships among peers and supporters across genres, and in publishing and performance. Witness will take place in Detroit, MI, a city with a growing arts and education community. Witness' program book will be distributed to all attendees and will serve as resource material for education, arts and other community organizations after the event. Fire & Ink IV: Witness provides businesses like yours with the opportunity to both support a historic event with an extraordinary demographic, and reach hundreds of consumers of social influence as part of a document that will be referred to for years to come.
